Although review priority is given to GLSA and GPSolo members, others in the legal services industry are also invited to submit proposals. Please note the following regarding submitting proposals and being a presenter:

- The GLSA generally does not pay speaker fees, reimburse presenter expenses or waive conference registration fees, except in cases where a special guest speaker with certain needed expertise or credentials is not available.
- Persons who volunteer to make a presentation or otherwise participate in a program at a GLSA conference are asked to do so without the expectation of registration fee waiver or reimbursement of travel and other expenses. Speakers exclusively attending their own sessions are, of course, not expected to pay a registration fee.
- The GLSA Conference Committee may at its discretion accept or reject any or all proposals. Selection criteria will include novelty of the topic, relevance to the lawyers, administrators, marketers and trustees involved in legal services plans and related legal service delivery activities, nature of the materials proposed and presenter experience.
- Each speaker is expected to adhere to all deadlines for forms and materials. To receive CLE credit, every session MUST have written materials. New regulations also require that any course seeking CLE credit must have at least one attorney presenting.
